1. University of Leeds

Title: Discover Short-term Study Opportunities at the University of Leeds

This presentation will focus on the short-term study opportunities on offer from the University of Leeds. These include our International Summer School, single semester or full year study abroad opportunities as part of a Japanese bachelors degree, or General or Academic English programmes at our Language Centre. We will also tell you more about the vibrant and friendly city of Leeds, outline the support available to our Japanese students and describe the exciting opportunities on offer whilst a student with us.

Speaker profile:

Claire Zupnik is International Manager for East Asia in the University's International Office. She looks after Leeds' Japanese student recruitment, marketing and relationships, and works closely with the Leeds Japan Representative, based in Tokyo. Claire graduated from her Leeds degree (BA History) in 2009 and has worked at the University since then. She likes travelling to Japan to meet students and partners, as well as experiencing the incredible culture and food, and very much looks forward to returning to Japan in the near future!

Maddie Falson is the Incoming Study Abroad Adviser in the Study Abroad Office. She is responsible for overseeing the admission of incoming study abroad students for both single semester and full year exchange opportunities, pre-session English Language programmes and independent fee paying study abroad admissions. She graduated from the University of Sydney (BA History of Art) in 2012 and relocated to the UK from Australia in 2013.

About the short-term program

Leeds International Summer School

Leeds International Summer School (LISS) 2021 offers students the opportunity to study at a world top 100 university, earn credit and gain an insight into British culture. You can choose to join the programme for two or four weeks and earn up to 20 Leeds credits. We offer academic modules in a wide range of subject areas. LISS also includes a social and cultural programme.

Single semester or full-year study abroad

Through our study abroad programme you have the opportunity to spend one semester (or one full year) studying at the University of Leeds, and then transfer the credit you earned. You can choose from a wide variety of modules across the University and you will be taught alongside home and international students. You will be studying in a prestigious Russell Group university, among world-class researchers who are experts in their fields.

General English at our Language Centre

Our General English course gives you the opportunity to improve your English language skills. You'll develop skills so you can communicate confidently using English in everyday situations. You'll be taught by university academics who contribute to research into teaching languages. You can study full-time or part-time, for three to 40 weeks. There are start dates throughout the year.

Speaker profile:

Russell Clark is the Head of the Language Centre and a Senior Lecturer in English Language. He specialises in teaching English for Academic Purposes, Cultural Studies, and Teacher Training.

He joined Keele University in 2002. Prior to this, he worked for 14 years as an English Language lecturer at universities in Thailand, Singapore, Greece and Australia. Russell established the Trinity College (London) Certificate in TESOL at Keele in 2003 and the programme has now had over 200 successful students.

About Keele University

Voted joint 1st in England for student satisfaction, Keele is world-renowned for its breadth of teaching and research that tackles the world's most urgent problems. Keele occupies a 625 acre rural campus close to Newcastle under Lyme and Stoke on Trent. Keele is in the global top 25 for campus sustainability and we pride ourselves on the immersive campus experience we offer our students.

About the short-term program

Keele offers a range of bespoke summer and short programmes, including English Language and British Cultural Studies. Our 3-4 week programmes include a minimum of 40 hours of language tuition, 4-5 excursions and a 'graduation event'. Our British Cultural Studies programme offers students the chance to learn about the unique culture of our Royal Family, our love of queuing and how to make the perfect cup of tea!

For 2021, programmes are being offered online only and include English language tuition and practice alongside taster sessions in sustainability and environment.

For 2022, our International Immersion Programme: TESOL will offer students a semester abroad at Keele with students receiving the Trinity Certificate in TESOL at the end of the semester.

6. University of Roehampton

Title: Study at Roehampton: Summer and Winter at London's Campus University

We will provide a comprehensive overview of the opportunities for academic, cultural and social enrichment offered by our short-term programmes. The session will introduce you to the beautiful and vibrant campus environment, the exciting local neighbourhoods nearby and the convenient links to Central London. We will outline the range of services that you can access while at Roehampton, including our dedicated Study Abroad team who will support you from the application phase all the way through to your departure from campus.

We will also provide an overview of the excellent academic offerings found across our different short-term programmes, including the intensive modules delivered in our standard Summer School and January sessions, as well as the language development and cultural immersion activities offered by our new two-week Summer programme.

London is a hub of global activity and a great base from which to explore further afield. We will provide a preview of our optional programme of guided excursions to landmark locations within and outside London. These experiences will allow you to forge new friendships and discover the fascinating landscape and culture of the UK.

Speaker profile:

Chloe Green is a passionate Study Abroad professional who is dedicated to delivering fun and fulfilling experiences to overseas students. She studied abroad herself at Griffith University in Australia and has spent the subsequent years supporting others as they embark on their own international adventures. Chloe is always willing to offer guidance and share tips to help students overcome the challenges and seize the opportunities of a Study Abroad experience in London.

About University of Roehampton

Roehampton is London's only traditional campus university. Nestled on a beautiful 54-acre parkland estate in South-West London, we offer the benefits an inclusive student community in a safe campus environment, as well as direct access to the heart of Central London within 30 minutes by public transport. Our academic programmes offer an excellent quality of teaching delivered by research-active academics at the forefront of their fields. Our four historic colleges and Students' Union work to make our campus a fun and welcoming environment for all and our dedicated support services are ready to provide help and advice to students of any background.

About the short-term program

We offer integrated short-term programmes that allow students to live and study on our incredible campus. In addition to excellent academic programmes, we offer a range of on-campus social events and off-campus excursions that give you the chance to explore London with your fellow students. If you join our International Summer School, you will enrol in a three-week session studying a credit-bearing intensive module. This module will turn the whole of London into your classroom, with a programme of field trips chosen by your tutor to offer first-hand insights into the topics you study. From 2022, we will also launch an additional two-week Summer session that will focus on building your English language proficiency with taught sessions on campus and an exciting programme of cultural immersion activities taking place around London.

In addition to our Summer programmes, we also offer a short-term Winter programme every January. As with the Summer, you will take an intensive module augmented by off-campus field trips. You will spend two weeks living and studying on campus before completing your final week of class online, which will allow you to return in time for the start of the new semester at your home institution.
